U.S. Food Prices Continue to Drop; Butter Down Again

Price Now Below Old O.P.A. Ceiling—Tea Also Down—Milk Cut Forecast

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Further drops in food prices cheered housewives in many sections of the United States today.

Butter again headed the list, falling as low as 65 cents a pound in New York compared with the $1-a-pound peak for the golden commodity last Winter. The Office of Price Administration's old ceiling price was 67 cents a pound.

In Washington, government officials forecast a fairly general reduction in the price of milk by February 1. Cuts of about one cent a quart at retail were ordered today for five northeastern areas.

On the other hand, O.P.A. authorized an increase in the cost of sugar which it said would amount to about one-quarter cent a pound at retail.

Washington chain-store markets advertised butter at 69 cents a pound, a drop of around 10 cents in a week, and grade-A fryer chickens at 35 cents a pound. Chickens were selling retail at five or six cents a pound less than the wholesale price last month.

In Chicago, the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company announced a two-cent cut in 93-score butter will apply to the company's stores throughout Northern Indiana and Illinois tomorrow. The new price will be 69 cents a pound, compared with 93 cents December 10.

Point Ellice Bridge Superstructure to Be Replaced

—Colonist Photos.

PLANS for the replacement of the superstructure of the 45-year-old Point Ellice Bridge, shown above, will be started immediately if a public works committee recommendation is approved by the City Council Monday. Shown below inspecting the bridge yesterday are, left to right, J. R. Grant, Vancouver engineer; Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter, committee chairman; Ald. H. M. Diggon, Ald. F. G. Mulliner and G. M. Irwin, city engineer. Ald. Hunter said yesterday the bridge is safe if the speed limit of 10 miles per hour and the gross load limit for motor vehicles of 14 tons are observed.

Bar Austria From Union With Reich

Ministers Agreed On Independence

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—An American informant said today that the Big Four deputy foreign ministers had decided that the proposed treaty with Austria should bar any possibility of a union with Germany.

They were agreed that Austria should be recognized as independent, but sought to exact from her a promise that she would maintain a democratic form of government assuring basic human rights to her citizens.

Another American informant said the possibility of an interim stage in the long process of arriving at a final peace pact with Germany was introduced by Robert Murphy, the United States deputy.

Sir William Strang, British deputy, reminded the deputies that the final treaty for Germany may not be completed by the Big Four Foreign Ministers when they meet in Moscow, March 10.

This raised the possibility of the necessity of an intermediate stage when the affairs of Germany would be administered under an "inter-Governmental agreement."

Feodor T. Gousev, the Soviet deputy, discussed but did not elaborate on obstacles that may defer a final peace and said deputies must consider the "absence of a German Government."

Perfect Hand Of 13 Spades Dealt in City

Miss Mary Young, of Oliver Street, was dealt a perfect bridge hand last night with 13 spades and made an unopposed grand slam. Robert Wallace, professor of mathematics at Victoria College, said later she capitalized on a one-in-635,013,559,600 chance.

The chance of getting 13 cards in any suit at all, the professor said, is one-quarter of that—one in 158,753,389,900.

Miss Young was playing with Miss Betty Ellis, of King George Terrace, opposed by Mrs. S. D. Horsford, of Foul Bay Road, and Mrs. W. Erickson, of Cook Street. Mrs. Erickson dealt and Miss Young was fourth bidder.

Hazards Wait Prospector In Death Valley of B.C.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—The Vancouver News-Herald, in a dispatch from Fort St. John, B.C., said tonight that old-timers in Canada's Northwest cast doubt on romantic tales of easy-to-find gold, prehistoric monsters and a band of killer-Indians said to exist in legendary Nahanni Valley.

Instead, their story said, hard work, discomfort, myriads of mosquitos and blackflies and hazardous traveling conditions await the several expeditions reported heading for the valley.

"Headless valley is no place for anyone interested in escapism," one Northerner said, "but only for men of the hardest character and physical toughness.

"It probably wasn't Indians who killed off previous prospectors, but nature in the raw."

Hardy "sourdoughs" and men who have lived in the North all their lives were reported as saying that inexperienced persons making a trip into the valley would be "committing suicide."

They pointed out that it isn't for nothing that the valley is sometimes referred to as "the Death Valley of British Columbia."

Residents were skeptical of stories surrounding the lush, misty valley, and said the discovery of gold would depend on Lady Luck and anyone inexperienced enough to think otherwise might "never return," the newspaper said.

Two Canadian expeditions and one from the United States are reported preparing to explore the little-known valley.

Found Guilty Of Mail Theft

CALGARY, Jan. 17 (CP).—Convicted on a charge of stealing from the mails, Romeo J. Shaw, former city letter-carrier, was remanded for sentence. Evidence taken in the case previously was that "test" letters placed in the mail stream were found in an automobile for which Shaw had the keys after he had been observed taking letters from a post office pigeon-hole which was not on his route.

Cardinal Passes

Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, who died of a heart attack at Ramona Convent in suburban Los Angeles yesterday. The cardinal was 63 and had been in ill health since last June.

Extracts of Cardinal Villeneuve's will disclosed the Prelate left instructions that he was to be accorded a simple funeral.

Meanwhile, no announcement had been made as to when the funeral would take place. The body of the Cardinal, who died in California this morning, was being flown to Quebec City.

No Color Line In Admissions

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP).—The city council's legislation committee tonight recommended that licences for public halls and other places of entertainment in future should be issued on condition that no discrimination is shown because of race or creed against those seeking admission.

Would Delay Action On Arms Reduction

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 17 (AP).—The United States is slowly shaping a cautious arms policy stressing progress on United Nations atomic energy control without forcing a showdown vote with the Soviet Union, it was learned authoritatively today.

This policy further seeks to avoid any premature arms-reduction program, and, under it, the American delegation will counsel against establishment of a security council commission immediately, it was learned.

However, the United States was said to be ready to go along with setting up such a commission if other countries insisted, provided a definite line was drawn between the tasks of the new body and the already-functioning atomic energy commission. The policy stressed that all weapons of mass destruction must be left under the atomic commission, along with the bomb itself, and not within the framework of any disarmament commission.

The American delegation still held that the council at its next meeting Monday should postpone the whole arms question until February 4. Meanwhile its representatives hoped for substantial off-the-floor progress on the atomic issue.

Get Snappy Snack With Tax Return

LA JUNTA, Colo., Jan. 17 (AP). — Patrons at the Snappy Snack Cafe will have an added incentive to eat in the restaurant until March 15. The new owner, Richard F. Jacob, is offering to help all patrons with their income tax returns. He was with the Internal Revenue Department for 15 years.

McGeer Urges Logging Roads

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—The "magnificent industry" of the truck loggers has done much to harvest British Columbia's timber resources, Mayor G. G. McGeer said tonight in an address before the Truck Loggers' convention here tonight. He termed the timber resources "a commodity upon which this province depends more for its prosperity than any other."

Mayor McGeer claimed that the Provincial Government should "build good roads" into timber areas such as made British Columbia wealthy in the past, "and will make it greater in the future."

Immediately following his address, Mayor McGeer left for St. Paul's Hospital for a "check over." He had previously postponed his admittance to the hospital to attend the closing session of the convention.

More than 900 truck loggers and their friends were guests at a banquet and dance tonight, sponsored by machinery companies and allied industries associated with their work.

Hill Appointed To Commission

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer yesterday announced the appointment of Lieut.-Col. C. H. Hill to Vancouver's Police Commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation this week of Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson.

The appointment was made after Mr. Wismer had been informed by Mayor G. G. McGeer that Mr. Matheson, owing to ill health, was unable to continue to carry the heavy responsibility of police commission membership in addition to his duties as deputy police magistrate.

Col. Hill also was appointed a deputy police magistrate by the Attorney-General to qualify him for police commission membership under Vancouver's charter. He will not sit in police court, however.

Government to Control All Oil

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The Justice Department told the Supreme Court today that the Federal Government owns the oil-rich coastal lands out to California's three-mile limit because sovereignty over them "is a creature of international law."

Attorney-General Clark filed a brief in the case by which the Government seeks to establish Federal title to the lands, now leased by California to oil companies. The state's brief will be filed later and arguments probably will be heard in February or March.

The question whether the Federal or State Governments own the submerged coastal lands beyond the low-tide mark has been at issue for years. The last Congress passed a bill which would have yielded title to the states but President Truman vetoed it on the ground that the Supreme Court, not Congress, should decide the question.

Fast Express Reduces Time

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 17 (AP).—The president of the Northern Pacific Railway Company said tonight that a new streamline train to be put in service by June would trim 12 hours from the travel time on the line's Chicago-Seattle run.

Peace Treaties Of Six Nations Ready to Sign

United States Will Be First Of "Big Four" Powers to Accept

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The Big Four Foreign Ministers Council reported today that the peace treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary and Romania have been completed and are ready for signing.

State Secretary Byrnes is scheduled to sign all except the Finnish treaty Monday morning, probably his last official act before turning over the conduct of Foreign Affairs to his successor, Gen. Marshall.

Byrnes will not sign the Finnish treaty because the United States was not at war with Finland.

After the signing here, the treaties will be forwarded to the other great-power capitals with the expectation that Foreign Secretary Bevin will sign in London and Foreign Minister Molotov in Moscow. The treaties then will go to Paris, where they are to be signed by all the allied and associated powers and by the former enemy states concerned February 10.

Copies of the official text, printed in English, Russian and French in five separate volumes, were distributed here yesterday to the diplomatic missions of the allied and associated powers of the Second World War.

The texts are the same as those on which Byrnes, Bevin, Molotov and the French Deputy Foreign Minister, Couve de Murville, finished work in New York in December. They provide in general for restoring peace between the Allies and the defeated former enemy states, settling boundary questions, limiting their arms and determining the conditions under which the five states are restored to full membership in the family of nations.

Calls Jewish Leaders For Meeting

London Conference Opens Next Week

JERUSALEM, Jan. 17 (AP).—Lt.-Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, the Palestine High Commissioner, late today summoned David Ben-Gurion, chairman of the Jewish agency executive, to a 40-minute talk possibly aimed at getting Jewish leaders to meet in London when the Palestine conferences begin on January 21.

Sir Alan, who arrived in Jerusalem earlier by special plane from London, telephoned personally to Ben-Gurion who was meeting with the Palestine Jewish agency executive in Ben-Gurion's Tel Aviv home.

Prior to Gen. Cunningham's call the agency executive had agreed to take part in a conference in London of agency members from London, Paris, New York and Jerusalem late in January. Jewish leaders said Sir Alan may have wanted to get them into the British capital by January 21.

The Palestine Arab executive, which has agreed to take part in the London Conference, said its four-man delegation would meet with the Grand Mufti in Cairo before going to London.

Steals Big Bus, Police Take Over

TACOMA, Jan. 17 (AP).—People, it has been said, have stolen bass drums, even elephants, but the climax came tonight here when a 25-year-old Tacoma man took off with a big 37-passenger North Coast bus.

The vehicle had been parked near the depot, and when the thief tried to get it out of its parking space he ripped off a fender of another bus.

Police, called on the case, spotted the lumbering machine in South Tacoma, firing six shots and chasing it a couple of miles before the driver stopped it and attempted to escape. He was arrested and held for questioning.

Victoria Tug Tows Vessel On Long Trip

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—The 10,000 ton freighter Lake Sicamous dropped anchor here tonight after being towed all the way up the Pacific Coast from the Panama Canal. The Sicamous lost a propellor off Panama and was towed to San Pedro, Calif., by American tugs. The Victoria tug Snohomish picked her up there and towed her to Vancouver through raging Pacific storms.

Raises Level Of Industry In Germany

U.S. and Britain Agree on Policy

BERLIN, Jan. 17 (AP).—United States and British officials said tonight they expected to issue a directive to the German people in their zones in a few days which would set the level of German industry above that previously decided by four-power agreement.

An American official said the directive would transfer the emphasis in German economy from the traditional heavy industry to light industry and textiles.

This joint Anglo-American step follows the action of the Russians in advising officials of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity Party that industry in the Soviet zone would be increased by 200 to 300 per cent, that dismantling of factories for reparations would cease in the Soviet zone, and that reparations from current German production would be cut down.

The Russian action taken without prior consultation with the other occupation powers, caught Allied authorities by surprise and brought from Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American Military Government chief, a request for a Russian explanation. The Russians have promised a statement at the next meeting of the Allied Co-ordinating Committee.

American officials yesterday commented that the Russian plan would wreck the agreed four-power level for German industry, and appeared even to raise it above the prewar level.

Britons to Get Tax Cut On Income Says Dalton

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP).—Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is expected to ease the personal income tax burden on British wage-earners when he brings down his 1947-48 budget next April.

The basic rate of nine shillings in the pound—45 per cent—may be cut to eight shillings; or he may extend his policy of increasing exemptions, now one-eighth of total earned income within a minimum of £150 ($600).

Most financial experts believe he will replace this lost revenue by a new betting tax, last tried unsuccessfully in 1926 by Winston Churchill when he had Dalton's job.

The Chancellor may unfreeze some of the £800,000,000 in compulsory postwar credits accumulated by 12,000,000 income taxpayers during the five years beginning 1941. So far repayments have been restricted to elderly persons.

Talk of a "capital gains" tax, similar to that imposed in the United States, has been frequent but it is understood Dalton's Treasury advisers have opposed the plan and it is likely to be dropped.

Cuts in the heavy British purchase tax are unlikely, except on some essential and semi-essential products now available in greater quantities than during the war.

Labor party policy has always favored direct rather than indirect taxation but Dalton is expected to urge that under present circumstances indirect taxes may be fairer to the working man.

"Income tax at its present level is more disliked and is a greater discouragement to productive efforts than taxes on commodities," he said in one recent speech.

Million Jews In Palestine

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Joseph C. Baldwin, New York Republican, said today he believes most of the 100,000 Jews President Truman wants admitted to Palestine already are there.

Immediate Start Sought on Plans For New Superstructure for Bridge

Recommendation that plans for a new superstructure for Point Ellice Bridge be started immediately will be made to the City Council Monday, Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter, public works chairman, announced following a meeting yesterday. It has been roughly estimated that this would cost at least $200,000 but Ald. Hunter emphasized that no detailed study of costs has been made.

Together with J. R. Grant, Vancouver engineer, members of the committee made a complete inspection of the bridge yesterday.

During the inspection, it was noted that vehicles, including heavily-laden trucks, were not adhering to the 10-mile-an-hour speed limit, which was laid down by Mr. Grant in a previous report as the maximum safe speed. It was also noted that a new sign setting out clearly the 10-mile-an-hour limit, had been placed at the entrance to the bridge, but without mention that no motor vehicle with a gross load of more than 14 tons is permitted to cross.

Ald. Hunter said the committee was satisfied that the report prepared by Mr. Grant was sufficiently comprehensive and it was considered no independent report would be needed. On Mr. Grant's recommendation, the committee will insist that a rigid monthly inspection be made of beams, stringers and joints.

"There is absolutely no danger if the load and speed limits laid down are observed," he declared, "but it is important that they be adhered to."

Present suggestions call for a new superstructure to be placed on the present piers and abutments which are considered sound and which would permit a roadway for three lanes of traffic. If four lanes are desired the piers will have to be widened, a costly undertaking, Ald. Hunter indicated.

It is suggested that the new bridge will be a deck-type structure with no overhead steel, all the supporting beams and framework being placed beneath the road surface.

Just when the new bridge will be built has not been decided. Ald. Hunter said engineers had advised him it would take at least six months to complete the plans.

"I wish to emphasize, however," he said, "that if we are advised following any of the monthly inspections that the bridge is dangerous, it will be closed and action will be taken to finance a new superstructure."

Car Owners Have Two Weeks To Seek Special Licence Plates

Car owners who like to have the same number on their licence plates year after year, or who want special numbers for sentimental, superstitious or business reasons, have until the end of this month to put their requests in to the provincial motor licence office.

Because of the extra bookkeeping involved, officials say they can't extend the privilege beyond January 31. Most authorities south of the border have discontinued the concession because it entails too much work to satisfy fads and fancies.

Choice of numbers is on a "first come, first served" basis and is limited to the first 3,000, with the exception of No. 1, which by custom goes to the senior naval officer on the Pacific Coast. Also by custom, Premier John Hart gets No. 15,000—an exception to the first 3,000 rule. Official car of Lieutenant-Governor C. A. Banks carries the coat-of-arms in place of a licence plate.

Numerologists have a variety of combinations of figures to play around with, if they get their requests in quickly enough. But poker players won't be able to draw a full house or fill a flush or straight, though they can draw four of a kind.

Nobody has poached on the preserves of the representative of a pickle firm who annually asks for "57."

Licence numbers to coincide with those of telephones are popular with those who just can't remember their own car numbers without some help.

Since the beginning of this month the licence office has been filling mail orders for the 1947-48 plates, which will carry "Mediterranean green" numerals on a white background. Over-the-counter sales will begin February 1, on which date the new plates may legally be taken into use, though the old plates will still be legal up to midnight, February 28.

In Georgia Clash

"GOVERNOR" TALMADGE

"GOVERNOR" ARNALL

Two governors, Ellis Gibbs Arnall and Herman Eugene Talmadge, vie for executive power in adjoining offices at Atlanta, Ga., issuing conflicting orders and appointing different men to the same state offices. Governor Talmadge, 33, was named governor and sworn in by the General Assembly. Confusion results from death of re-elected Governor Eugene Talmadge before he took office. Herman Talmadge is late governor's son.

Talmadge Boss Of Statehouse

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 17 (AP).—Ellis Arnall lost today his temporary offices in the Statehouse rotunda as the rival governor claimant, Herman Talmadge, took charge. Arnall promptly set up a capitol of his own in a downtown office building.

Arnall was barred from his rotunda office, established yesterday after Talmadge seized control of the executive offices which Arnall had occupied for the last four years, by a Talmadge lieutenant when he showed up for work this morning.

Reiterating his claims that he is the "legal governor" and that he was ousted from the Statehouse by a "military coup d'etat," the 39-year-old Arnall said he would function from the business section office building "until the courts remove the pretender who by force and storm proopers" denied him a desk at the Capitol.

Talmadge, 33, made no comment on Arnall's charges at a press conference but asserted "everything is quiet." He said earlier that four state troopers were assigned to Arnall on his Capitol visit today because "the temper of the people is such anything might happen."

Government Closes Communist Radio At Changchun

PEIPING, Jan. 17 (AP).—Accusing the Communist members of Chinese truce headquarters of aiding the Communist armies, the Government today ordered their radio shut down and their work stopped at Changchun, Manchurian capital.

Explanation of the clamp-down orders came from a Government spokesman after the American branch of the executive headquarters in Peiping had protested that the step violated headquarters directives.

The spokesman for the Government branch of the tripartite headquarters said the Communist members in Changchun were "in constant radio communication with the Red armies advancing against Changchun."

A Communist spokesman in Peiping professed not to know the reason for the Government's action against the truce representatives, but said Communist leaders in Changchun were confined to quarters and were "closely watched" by Government men.

The headquarters have not functioned as an actual truce organization for several months since the breakdown of Government - Communist negotiations in Nanking.

The Government tripartite headquarters spokesman asserted that "100,000 Communist troops under Gen. Lin Piao are now pushing toward the Manchurian capital. The Communists have probably taken Tachimuan by now and are converging on Tehhui, 55 miles north of Changchun."

All Parts of Canada Pay Tribute To Late Cardinal Villeneuve

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17 (CP).—Canada today lost one of its most eminent Roman Catholic prelates and scholars in the death at suburban Ramona Convent of Rodrique Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec.

In failing health since last July when he suffered a stroke, the 69-year-old cardinal succumbed to another heart attack at 8:05 a.m. Msgr. Paul Nicole, the cardinal's secretary, administered the last rites of the church.

He first became ill shortly after attending religious ceremonies at Ile a la Crolx, Sask., last June, and was administered the last rites early in July. After a period in hospital in Quebec he was moved to New York for convalescence.

Messages of praise for the 69-year-old Archbishop of Quebec, and of condolence to Canada, and particularly to the Roman Catholics of the diocese, came from all parts of the Dominion and from the United States.

His only Canadian colleague in the Sacred College of Cardinals, James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, said of him:

"Cardinal Villeneuve has left a name to be ever remembered in the history of Canada."

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said his death "is a great loss to his church and a great loss to Canada," and Progressive Conservative Leader John Bracken called him "a statesman of his church and a renowned world figure."

Son of a Montreal shoemaker, Cardinal Villeneuve rose from that humble station to the highest office of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada in the space of 49 years, 23 of which he spent as a teacher of philosophy, canon law and theology at the Scholasticate of the Oblates in Ottawa.

Said Bishop James M. Hill, of Victoria, yesterday:

"Canada today mourns one of her most illustrous sons, the church one of its ablest leaders, in the passing of His Eminence Cardinal Villeneuve of Quebec. A distinguished and saintly prince of the church, a brilliant scholar, a fearless protagonist of right, always an ardent champion of Canadian unity and ideals, Cardinal Villeneuve brought to his high calling those outstanding qualities of mind and heart that won for him the respect, esteem and affection of all Canadians. His rare endowments, varied abilities, profound learning and matured experience will be greatly missed in the councils of the church. Many in these parts will remember the occasion of his visit to Victoria in 1936 in connection with the first Eucharistic Congress in Vancouver."

Sustained Yield From Forests Widely Backed

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—The principle of "sustained yield" to perpetuate the forest crop of British Columbia has the support of the majority of small timber operators as well as large, it was indicated at the fourth annual convention here of the Truck Loggers' Association.

During the three-day convention, which closed tonight, speakers emphasized the importance of a sustained-yield program.

"More than 40 per cent of operators in the United States now use practices involving sustained yield," E. T. F. Wohlenberg, forest counsel of the Western Forestry and Conservation Association, Portland, Ore., told the convention delegates.

He reviewed the 100-year Shelton sustained yield contract between the Government and industry in the United States, and said that some of the big companies now are doing more "detailed sustained yield work, using their own foresters, than the Government."

At the closing business session today, A. P. Allison, prominent logging operator, was elected president of the association, with Clair C. Smith, vice-president, and F. H. Adames, secretary.

H. A. Richmond, Dominion Government entomologist, told the delegates that the hemlock looper is the greatest menace to the forest wealth of the province.

He said, however, that prospects are better for 1947. The loopers are being attacked by a virus disease and they have been wiped out in several areas.

Directors elected are: H. J. Welch, W. L. Keate, W. C. Gibson, J. W. Baikie, Frank H. Parker, F. G. Barwell, G. E. Welburn, C. W. Swanson, J. S. Fletcher, G. H. Clarke, R. H. Grant and Pat Maloney.

The annual banquet was held tonight, at which G. O. McGeer was guest speaker.

Lower Skeena Slides Block Railway Line

PRINCE RUPERT, Jan. 17 (CP).—Two large snowslides blocked rail traffic on the Canadian National Railways line in the lower Skeena Valley today and caused the derailment of a railway locomotive. No one was injured.

F. E. Carey, superintendent of transport for the C.N.R., said here tonight that the line was expected to be cleared early tomorrow morning.

The slides occurred on the first sub-division east of Prince Rupert. The first slide—about 200 feet long—buried the line under some 20 feet of snow about nine miles east of Kwinitsa, B.C., while the second slide fell about four miles west of Kwinitsa. The second slide was 300 feet long.

Marine Engineers Elect Officers

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP).—Dennis Heard, of Vancouver, was elected president of the National Association of Marine Engineers at its annual meeting today, when Joseph Kennedy, former president, said that prospects are bright for trade and for the general betterment of Canada's merchant marine.

Mr. Kennedy told the meeting that at the next session of Parliament the Government would appoint a maritime commission representing the three bodies conducting Canada's merchant marine, and said that the marine engineers had proposed such a body several times.

David Fruder, of Owen Sound, was elected first vice-president; John Farquharson, of Port Arthur, second vice-president, and George Grant, of Vancouver, secretary.

Police Reporters Solve Mystery

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (CP).—The guests at a private showing of a yet-unreleased mystery film included about 30 police officials, police reporters and judges.

Halfway through the movie the projectionist stopped the film and the guests were asked to name the murderer, the methods he used and his motives.

The three perfect scorers were police reporters.

Paper Asks Immigration Into Britian

LONDON, Jan. 17 (CP).—While more than 300,000 Britons await transportation to new homes in the Dominions, The Times of London and The Weekly National Newsletter, have urged that the Government consider the advisability of starting a program of immigration to the United Kingdom, as the answer to the acute manpower problem.

"The case for a selective immigration of up to 500,000 foreign workers during the next few years is exceedingly strong," a Times editorial said. "It is regrettable that neither the Government nor the Labor movement appears to have given much thought to it."

"We think the Government would be abundantly justified in arranging for immigration at once of not less than 250,000 foreigners," said The National Newsletter, published by Cmdr. Stephen King Hall.

"As a footnote to this plan we hasten to add that we would warmly support any proposals (such as an assisted passage scheme) for enabling any in the Dominions, who wish to throw in their lot with these islands, to migrate."

The newspaper comments came one day after the National Mineworkers Union, following a year's consideration, announced its willingness to tolerate the employment of Polish labor in British mines. Master cotton spinners and other industrialists also are talking of an influx of foreign workers. Farmers must rely on German prisoners of war for a large proportion of their labor.

Alberta Short Court Judges

CALGARY, Jan. 17 (CP). — The shortage of judges in Alberta was scored by Chief Justice W. R. Howson in Supreme Court today. His lordship said the shortage of judges made it impossible for those at present on the bench to write judgments and give proper service to the lawyers and the public.

"Unfortunately we have not enough judges in the Province of Alberta to enable us to write all the judgments we should write," his lordship said.

"No trial judge can hold trials every week, or nearly every week, and still do justice to the lawyers and the public."

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP).—Saul (Sonny) Berman, 21, jazz trumpet player recently with Woody Herman's band, died Thursday of a heart attack in the home of a friend. Berman had played with Tommy Dorsey, Harry James, Boyd Raeburn and George Auld.

Chinese Reject Offer of Truce

NANKING, Jan. 18 (Saturday) (AP).—The Chinese Communists today rejected a Government offer to send an emissary to Yenan to reopen truce negotiations.

The Government proposal, announced in midweek, had been relayed to Communist Party leaders at their Yenan headquarters for a decision.

The Government did not report on what basis it proposed reopening negotiations, broken off several months ago after both sides had violated a January, 1947, truce agreement.

U. of Manitoba Tops Debaters

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17 (CP).—University of Manitoba debaters retained the McGoun Cup, emblematic of western intercollegiate debating supremacy, by unanimous victories over the Universities of British Columbia and Alberta tonight.

The subject discussed by representatives of those three universities and the University of Saskatchewan was "Resolved That Allied Troops Should Be Withdrawn From Greece and China Immediately."

Debates were held at Winnipeg, where Manitoba was at home to U.B.C.; Saskatoon, where Alberta met Saskatchewan; Edmonton, where Manitoba debated with Alberta; and Vancouver, where U.B.C. and Saskatchewan met. In each case the home team upheld the affirmative.

The results:

U.B.C. at Manitoba—Unanimously for Manitoba.

Manitoba at Alberta — Unanimously for Manitoba.

Alberta at Saskatchewan — 2-1 for Saskatchewan.

Saskatchewan at U.B.C.—2-1 for U.B.C.

A debate between the University of Manitoba and the eastern champions, to be decided in a series between the Maritimes and Central Canada, has been suggested for the Dominion supremacy.

Appeal Court Orders New Trial In Evelyn Dick Murder Case

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP).—In 31 words the five justices of Ontario's Appeal Court today answered the question awaited since Tuesday noon—they set aside Mrs. Evelyn Dick's conviction of murder and ordered a new trial.

It seemed probable tonight the dark-haired young Hamilton widow would stand trial for a second time on January 27 along with her father, 48-year-old Donald MacLean, and clandestine sweetheart of a year and a half ago, William Bohozuk.

All three are charged with the slaying on March 6, 1946, of John Dick, Evelyn's 40-year-old husband of only five months, the man she said was a "lovely fellow" when she met him, the man she said obtained soap chips for her when they were hard to get.

So far, there is only Evelyn's statement to police to show how the Hamilton street-car driver died. She said it was from gunshots fired by William Bohozuk in a car which she drove.

In setting aside her conviction of last October, the climax of a nine-day trial which included damning testimony from the accused's mother, Mrs. Alexandra MacLean, the Appeal Court said:

"This appeal is allowed; the conviction is set aside and a new trial is directed. We hope to be able to hand down written reasons for this judgment early next week."

All five justices, headed by Chief Justice R. S. Robertson, signed the document.

Conservatives Meet March 28

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—Fifth annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada will be held here March 28-29, J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for Muskoka-Ontario and president of the association, announced tonight.

Party members and delegates from among the membership of the association across the country will attend.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, will address the annual dinner meeting March 29.

A special meeting of the women's committee and of the young Progressive Conservative Association of Canada will be held March 28.

$60,000 Suit Against Judge

TORONTO, Jan. 17 (CP).—A writ claiming damages amounting to $60,000 was filed at Osgoode Hall today by Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Taylor of Cobourg against Judge J. C. M. German, also of Cobourg.

Judge German was convicted several weeks ago on a charge of drunken and reckless driving arising from an accident when the automobile he was driving struck and injured Mrs. Taylor. He was sentenced to 30 days.

The statement of claim alleges Mrs. Taylor will be "permanently disabled."

German Shells Cause Deaths

MUIDEN, Holland, Jan. 17 (AP).—A truck loaded with 150-pound German shells exploded today, killing 14 Dutch soldiers and two civilians.

The blast caused a crater 150 feet in diameter.

The 14 soldiers were unloading the truck, and one was believed to have dropped a shell.

Thefts Reported At Canol Project

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—A Vancouver newspaper said today in a dispatch from Norman Wells, N.W.T., that there has been a mysterious disappearance of at least $100,000,000 worth of Canol Oil Project property. It added:

"The one good asset which now remains of the Canol stands at Whitehorse, Y.T., in the form of the refinery which cost $25,000,000."

It was announced in Washington this week that the United States Government now proposes to sell the assets of Canol, which cost $133,000,000.

The newspaper dispatch said: "Canol's ribs have been picked by junk dealers and its skeleton on the open market will not likely bring one-tenth of its cost."

"The amount of straight thefts from the system may never be known. Records of the F.B.I. at Washington and of the Mounted Police contain lists of prosecutions. In most cases there was no conviction. Canol assets were in most cases not guarded or even housed so that it was temptation to Northern trappers and miners to help themselves."

"Company" of Office Tenants May Solve Problem of Space

An answer to the acute shortage of office space in the city may result from a plan devised by Alfred Carmichael.

This plan centres about the Davie Building, 1112 Langley Street, which would be acquired by an interested group of office-space seekers, completely renovated at a cost of $13,000, and would become an investment for tenants as well as a site for office space with security of tenure.

Renovation planned, Mr. Carmichael explained yesterday, would result in provision of 12 modern offices, plans for which have already been completed by Hugh C. Perram, architect.

"Already a considerable number of inquiries have been made about this plan," Mr. Carmichael said yesterday.

"It would be something new for this city — a plan to cater to a need," he added. The number of shares any one tenant bought would depend on the amount of office space he required, it was explained. Actual work on the renovation will not be started until the "tenant company" has been formed.

NAILS DEEP IN TREE

A tree surgeon would have had a major job on his hands in performing an operation on a tree recently cut down by A. O. Snowden, 2928 Henderson Road.

Mr. Snowden yesterday brought a section of the oak tree to The Daily Colonist. Two four-inch spikes were in the heart of the wood.

Mr. Snowden estimates the large nails were driven into the tree "sometime in 1916 or 1917." Only the heads of the spikes were rusty.

HUMMINGBIRD HERE

G. V. Cross, 1596 Yale Street, reports a hummingbird was feeding from one of the jasmine plants in his garden on Wednesday.

The bird was seen by William Cross Jr., who called his father to witness the unusual arrival of the little bird.

R.A.F. CLUB

Richard Steele was elected president of the newly-formed R.A.F. Club at a reunion Thursday night at Prince Robert House.

The new club is composed of R.A.F. personnel stationed at Patricia Bay and elsewhere in Canada during the war, who have returned to Canada to make their homes.

Other officers chosen were Bernard Shaw, vice-president; Archie Davis, secretary; P. Neal, treasurer, and W. J. Kenton, social convener. Attending the reunion were 38 former R.A.F. men, who voted unanimously for the formation of the club.

CHEQUE SURPRISE

The city welfare committee was surprised yesterday by the receipt of a $500 cheque, according to Ald. Mrs. Margaret D. Christie, chairman. It came from a woman who had been helped by the welfare department some years ago, Ald. Christie explained. In recent years things had turned out a little better and the $500 had been set aside in the woman's will to repay the city for its help.

"It gives us the nice feeling that our work is sometimes worth while," commented Mrs. Christie.

HELICOPTER FILMS

Motion pictures giving the history of development of the helicopter from early experimental models to modern commercial Sikorsky-type aircraft were shown for Provincial Government officials yesterday afternoon in the Travel Bureau's miniature theatre. Seen by officials of the Forest Service and lands, public works, mines, police and fisheries departments, the films were shown by representatives of the Pratt Whitney Aircraft Corporation of Montreal.

REPAIRS NEEDED

Electrical equipment operating the elevating span of the Johnson Street Bridge is in need of replacement, Ald. F. G. Mulliner, electric light committee chairman, stated yesterday following an inspection of the bridge with G. M. Irwin, city engineer.

He said no estimate of the cost had been made, but it would involve a "considerable sum."

Much of the equipment suffers from corrosion and wear and tear, Ald. Mulliner said, and the time had now come for some major replacements. The city engineer would be instructed to give all the equipment a close inspection to determine the cost.

FAULTY STAMP

J. W. T. Dickson, Gordon Head, brought to The Daily Colonist yesterday a block of four stamps with perforation deflected through the middle of one stamp, presumably caused by folding and passing through machine.

This was the only stamp marked, none of the remaining stamps being faulty.

LIONS CLUB OFFICERS

Several changes within the offices of the Victoria Lions Club were announced yesterday by J. B. Priestley, president.

J. Roberts has been appointed first vice-president following the resignation of Jack Kendrick; and Clarence Johns has been named second vice-president following the resignation of Harold McWilliams. Both Mr. Kendrick and Mr. McWilliams left their posts due to pressure of business.

The two new vice-presidents will retain their offices for the next six months.

J. Evans was named club "tail-twister," and the vacancy on the board of directors, caused by the promotion of Mr. Roberts, will be filled by Ted Hart.

FINED $25

Herman Walker, yesterday, was fined $25 with the alternative of five days in jail for failing to keep, properly, a register at a hotel operated by him at 509½ Johnson Street. Passing sentence in city police court, Magistrate Henry C. Hall said he attached considerable importance to the practice of keeping proper registers.

Playing Space Great Need Speaker Says

Unhappy homes, liquor, lack of supervision and understanding on the part of parents, and insufficient recreation, were listed last night by Magistrate Henry C. Hall, as contributing factors toward juvenile delinquency.

In an address to the quarterly banquet of Aerie No. 12, Fraternal Order of Eagles, last night in Terry's dining-room, Magistrate Hall said that there "was not such a thing as a typical juvenile delinquent."

"Each case presents an individual problem and each must be studied and dealt with in its own particular way," he explained. "In each case, co-operation of the youngster and of the parents is of prime importance."

Magistrate Hall reviewed procedure in the juvenile court, and some of its methods of dealing with cases of boys and girls under 18 who become involved with breaking the law.

"I think many youngsters do not get enough religious training, and many of them lack an understanding of Christian ethics—in other words don't know right from wrong," he stated.

Magistrate Hall added that one of the biggest factors in the treatment of youngsters should be more organized recreation.

"Victoria could use four times as many playgrounds as it has, and I would like to see 100 tennis courts in the city. These would be used by boys and girls to tide them over the critical ages of adolescence," he said.

Joe Wright, Eagles' president, reported that in six months more than 600 new members had been inducted into the club.

"An organization such as our must keep growing all the time if it is to be a success," he declared. Bill Bridgewood, steering committee chairman, was chairman of the dinner.

Herring Catch 90,300 Tons

More than 90,300 tons of herring have been taken from waters of the Vancouver Island coasts to date this season, it was announced yesterday by the director of Western fisheries, Vancouver.

Of this total, more than 38,889 tons have been landed in waters of the West Coast. To date, the canned herring pack is 1,280,499 cases, in comparison with 1,153,896 cases in the corresponding period last year.

Uses toward which the catch has been put are as follows: Used fresh, 767 tons; dry salted, 4,252 tons; used for bait, 678 tons; brine cured, 68 tons; herring meal, 3,264 tons; herring oil, 342,047 Imperial gallons; herring offal meal, 2,347 tons; and herring offal oil, 363,773 Imperial gallons.

VICTORIAN ELECTED

Robert Peters of Victoria was elected a director of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada at the annual meeting last night in Toronto.

Dr. J. W. Campbell, of the University of Alberta, at Edmonton, was elected president. He succeeds Dr. A. E. Johns, of McMaster University, Hamilton, president for the past two years.

Other directors include Dr. H. D. Smith, of Vancouver, and L. T. S. Norris-Ely, Winnipeg.

MAN SENTENCED

A sentence of three months at hard labor was imposed upon William Dodd, 3416 Seymour Street, when he appeared in Saanich police court Thursday following his conviction last week on a charge of forgery.

Imports From Many Parts of World Far Exceed Prewar Totals Here

MANY, varied, and greatly increased are the goods being imported to Victoria these days, G. A. Yardley, collector of customs here, reports imports to this city, in the past nine months, already are 300 per cent above the total for any entire year during the ten years immediately prior to the war.

Goods are reaching here from the United States, China, India, England, France, and South America. English and United States imports are described as "general." Cars, spirits, clothing and tobaccos are included in shipments from the United Kingdom.

Rugs and carpets are being imported from India, in addition to rubber goods. Gloves are coming from France, while candy and pottery are being shipped here from South America. Brightly-colored textiles are arriving from Mexico. Partly-finished furniture is also being sent from that country.

Appeals of Two Are Dismissed After "Frame-Up" Claim Fails

Appealing against both conviction and sentence on a charge of breaking and entering the plant of the Crystal Spring Soda Water Company here last Summer, George Paton, of Victoria, claimed in Appeal Court yesterday he was the victim of a "frame-up" on the part of police officers whose testimony convicted him.

Both appeals were dismissed.

Paton was sentenced by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane to five years in the penitentiary when he was convicted by an Assize Court jury here in November.

"Three law-abiding citizens swore I was in their company at the time of the burglary and their evidence should have been believed before that of the three police officers who identified me at the scene of the crime," Paton contended.

APPELLANT QUESTIONS IDENTIFICATION

On the question of his identification while in the soda water plant Paton asked: "Is it not impossible for any man to identify another through a plate-glass window hung with Venetian blinds?"

Appellant stated he had not taken the stand in his own defence during his trial because of fear that his previous criminal record would be brought out during cross-examination.

Asked by Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan at the conclusion of his appeal against conviction if he had anything further to add, Paton stated, "All I can say is that the officers lied."

Stating the trial judge had given ample reasons for his action in imposing the five-year sentence, Chief Justice Sloan also turned down Paton's appeal against sentence.

Appeals of James Ross, also of Victoria, against conviction and sentence for breaking and entering with intent to commit theft were dismissed by the Appeal Court.

Ross, who conducted both his own Assize Court trial and his appeal, claimed he also was the victim of mistaken identity.

Following Ross' appeal against his five-year sentence, Chief Justice Sloan said: "Speaking for myself, I would like to see some way to assist you to rehabilitate yourself, but, under the circumstances there is nothing I can do for you. Your previous record is rather lengthy." He did, however, rule that sentence could begin from date of conviction and not from the date of appeal as is the usual procedure.

Appeal of 16-year-old Roy Allison, Cranbrook, against concurrent sentences of two years less one day on each of three charges of breaking and entering and one of theft was stood over pending a report from the probation officer of the Mainland juvenile court. Grounds for the appeal as given by the appellant were his youth and the fact it was his first conviction.

Naval Veterans Elect Dawe

The Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion last night failed to endorse the Britannia Branch protest against the appointment of Dr. Morley Beckett, Canadian-born doctor, to the position of superintendent of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The Britannia Branch protest was recently endorsed by the Dockyard Branch, and Britannia Branch officials had previously expressed confidence that all Legion organizations would heartily endorse their stand.

A five-man committee, headed by J. A. Law-Beattie, will meet the board of directors of the Royal Jubilee Hospital on January 24 to discuss the matter.

H. R. Dawe was elected president of the Naval Veterans' Branch by acclamation at the annual meeting. Other officers elected were: L. Fieldhouse, first vice-president; A. Larsen, second vice-president, and Joseph Wittcomb, treasurer.

Appointed to the executive committee were: P. E. Beaven, A. A. Berry, J. Berry, C. H. Brown, A. Cownden, W. H. Dallaway, A. B. Ford, J. Quinn, F. Randolph and W. J. Roberts.

Court Imposes Fine of $40

Thomas Newsome was fined $40 and his driver's licence was suspended for 15 days when he was convicted in Saanich police court on Thursday of dangerous driving. Charge was laid following an accident at Tillicum and Gorge Roads on New Year's Day.

Pleading guilty to a similar offence, Harry Salmon was fined $35. He was charged as the result of an accident at Quadra Street and Tattersal Drive on January 11.

A third charge of dangerous driving against Victor L. Robinson was dismissed.

Eleven other motorists paid fines for lesser infractions of traffic regulations.

Fines were imposed on five residents of the municipality who had failed to pay their 1946 road and poll tax. Penalties were $5 for poll tax, $2 for road tax and $3 costs in each case.

Cocktail Bars Possible Without Vote But Plans of Government Withheld

Even though Victoria voted "dry" on the last beer-by-the-glass plebiscite in the city, cocktail lounges in city hotels could become legal without the necessity of another plebiscite if the Liquor Act is amended by the Legislature, it was learned on good authority yesterday.

With the whole subject of liquor reform becoming more explosive daily as the 1947 session approaches, Government leaders refuse to be quoted on liquor policy, or to comment on the brief recently presented to Cabinet by the Trades and Labor Congress calling for establishment of cocktail lounges as part of a plan to "rationalize the consumption of liquor."

However, an authority on legislation said yesterday there was nothing to prevent the Legislature sidestepping the Liquor-Control Plebiscites Act and authorizing cocktail rooms for "dry" Victoria and the rest of the province by way of amendment to the Liquor Act.

LIQUOR DEBATE ALMOST CERTAIN

Opening of the Liquor Act, shelved after weeks of discussion in caucus during the 1946 session, is virtually certain to be undertaken after the House meets again on February 11.

Liquor, however, providing about one-quarter of the province's annual revenue, is an important factor in Government policy, and it is equally certain that decision as to changes will not be made by Cabinet but will be held over until the House meets and Coalition members can go to work on it in caucus.

One source hinted yesterday that there will be changes in the control of beer parlors, over which there has been much recent controversy.

It is understood that proposals will be made to broaden the present refusal to grant licences for any new beer parlors that are places for beer drinking and nothing else—that a condition of new licences, if there are any, will be provision of full hotel facilities to acceptable standards in the way of room accommodation and dining-room service.

Also likely to be brought down is a proposal to correct an existing situation that allows limited liability companies to buy up beer parlor [illegible] Liquor Control Board doesn't know who actually owns the licence the board originally granted.

Pension Group Making Plans For Meeting

Final plans for a conference to be held in the Empress Hotel on February 26, when demands for an increase in old age pensions will be co-ordinated, will be made at a meeting of the Greater Victoria old age pension campaign committee next Friday night, W. McLaughlin, chairman, announced yesterday.

The conference will be sponsored by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.).

All interested organizations on Vancouver Island will be contacted by the committee and invited to send delegates to the conference, Mr. McLaughlin said. It is hoped Lieut. Governor C. A. Banks and representatives of Federal, provincial, civic and municipal governments will be in attendance.

GLADIOLUS SOCIETY

Plans to hold the first annual flower show on August 8 and 9, with outside entries, were discussed at the last regular meeting of the Victoria Gladiolus Society, held at the City Hall.

L. W. Taverner, president, demonstrated and described his method of storing and dipping bulbs. He also explained how to make indestructible metal stakes and labels. Several new members were introduced.

France Tries to Gain Strength Through Exports, Parisian Says

Through exports of perfume, liquor, silk and other commodities, France is trying to gain a stronger financial structure to aid reconstruction from the ravages of war, Robert Landiech of Paris said yesterday in an interview at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Landiech, manager of a lumber company in French West Africa, accompanied by his wife, and traveling for his company and the French Government, is making a survey of lumber and sawmill equipment in British Columbia and other parts of Canada and the United States.

"My country is in the middle of a big export drive, and French champagne, brandy and other commodities are being sent to countries all over the world," he said. "In return, France is importing coal, wheat, gasoline and other goods in short supply."

One of the biggest shortages in France and the rest of Europe since the end of the war, he said, was the lack of lumber, and the French Government is pushing lumber production in the colonies to the limit.

STUDYING METHODS OF OPERATION

In this regard, Mr. Landiech is studying methods of operation and types of logging machinery that may be of use to French firms, especially in Africa.

"While France itself has little lumber operation, the colonies in West Africa are particularly abundant in forests," he stated. "French West Africa alone has 700 different species of trees, most useful of which is the ironwood, which, because of its hard surface, requires special machinery to process."

Mr. Landiech, veteran of the Great War, holds the award of Officer of the Legion of Honor, the Croix de Guerre and the Medaille Militaire. During the World War, he and his wife were in Dakar, in French West Africa, and returned to Paris after the liberation.

Conditions in the French capital, he said, were slowly getting back to normal, although prices remained high.

"For people with money, living in France today is comfortable, and food, clothing and other items are fairly abundant, for a price. The poor people, however, have quite a time making ends meet," he explained.

On the subject of French fashions in women's clothes, Mrs. Landiech said she believed that France would regain her prewar position, leading in fashions for the rest of the world.

"During the war and occupation, the United States turned out most of the leading women's clothes, but since then, French designers have come back to their own," she said.

The couple plan to return to France in April and leave later in the Summer for Africa.

Chasing an Illusion

Whatever it may be for other communities otherwise circumstanced, public ownership of the transit system is a transparent illusion for the Greater Victoria region at this time. The taxpayers, who are most concerned, have seen that. It hardly required the statement of the chairman of a civic transportation committee to point out that such operations would be conducted at a loss of several hundred thousand dollars a year, with the taxpayers remaining as the chief source into which the system would dip to make good its annual deficits. The property owners, one suspects, arrived at that conclusion some time ago. Nor is that the complete picture.

What it would cost, say, the City of Victoria to expropriate the running gear and assets of the existing transportation companies, provide working capital, payrolls, money for extensive new equipment (renewable every few years), as well as putting its roads in order to withstand heavy modern traffic, can well be imagined. The City of Victoria has no such sums available, and when it comes to borrowing the capital there are already very heavy potential, and indeed certain, commitments facing the city for inescapable purposes. Only a visionary, knowing these facts, would suggest that this is the time for the city to enter into the transportation business on what would probably be a $2,000,000 initial cost basis, if it could be done for that.

The property owners, moreover, have not missed the significance of the fact that the section of labor which is most conversant with the transportation industry, the street railwaymen, has voted solidly against any experiment in public ownership here at this time. To press the issue of public ownership further is, in our view, to flog a dead horse. The property owners, with from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 of new commitments already ahead of them, would not be likely to take kindly to any suggestion that $2,000,000 in addition be added to that. There is the case in its practical terms, as the ratepayers know it to be.

Veterans' Homes

Comment on the progress of an investigation that is proceeding into the type of veterans' homes built in one section of the Greater Victoria community probably would be premature. In due course the investigation will be completed, and the report will be laid before the responsible authorities of the Crown. Sufficient has been adduced already, however, to make it apparent that the Canadian Legion was on sound ground in asking for a review of the matter, more especially as it is the veterans themselves who will have to pay whatever is decided as a just and true figure for the several homes they have acquired.

Applying that situation to what has happened all too frequently elsewhere in Canada, it would seem that Parliament when it meets will have an accumulating set of facts which will tend to show that the World War veteran has not altogether received the treatment he expected on his return from battle. It would accord with the spirit of Canada's rehabilitation measures and the will of the people if Parliament would act to redress the grievances which have cropped up. The main one, we suppose, is the fact that ordinary homes which would in normal times be built for $3,500 to $4,000, have turned out at a finished cost of nearly double that.

If the veteran is left to bear alone the loss which will ensue when property values return to more normal levels, he will find that a long and serious task, mortgaging a good portion of his fresh start in life. Aside from any one area or from any one group of houses built, Parliament, we do not doubt, will be asked to lift a part of that load from the battle veteran now. This should be done, for the dual reasons that fair treatment and a real start in life were pledged to the men who waged war for this nation where the fighting was hottest. To delay action, or to refuse recognition of a condition that has become all too general, would be unfair to the nation and to the men who served.

Canadian Disarmament

As an earnest of peaceful intentions that may have some import to larger members of the United Nations, the announcement that the Canadian armed forces will not be recruited beyond 75 per cent of their previously intended strength is not likely to meet with much objection on the part of people of this land, who desire only to live at peace. At the end of last month the total strength of the three services was 42,905, a striking recession from a peak wartime figure of 780,730. If other nations scaled down their armed forces in a proportionate degree the world would breathe much easier.

Canada's projected permanent force was modest enough in all conscience. The Navy, Army and Air Force combined was to be limited to a total of 51,100, a small military contingent for a nation which raised approximately one million fighting men and which stood fourth in war potential among Allied countries. Now it will be only three-quarters that size. Taxpayers will welcome the relief afforded by any elimination of unnecessary expenses, and by the consolidation of various branches of the three services said to be in the offing.

The reduction in peacetime armed strength seems predicated mainly on the effectiveness of the United Nations in securing international disarmament as well as peaceful settlement of disputes. It remains to be seen, of course, whether general disarmament will take place on the scale that might well be warranted by the example thus given by this country. All thinking people will pray that it may. In the meantime, however, the limited size of this country's peacetime armed forces imposes the obligation to see that within its compass it is highly efficient and kept completely up to date in the matter of equipment and research. Not to do this is merely to waste the cost of maintenance, and, until greater guarantees for international security are forthcoming, to act unwisely.

Research Council

Research work is a project about which the layman is generally hazy. He knows in a vague way that investigation is made into the details of many processes, and that causes and effects are studied which often result in startling discoveries. What is not generally appreciated is that research goes on steadily and quietly about a thousand mundane things which react to his benefit through development of numerous commodities and services. The consumers' daily food table, for example, owes much to constant investigation by research workers aiming to improve products for home use.

The Provincial Minister of Trade and Industry, Hon. L. H. Eyres, lifted the lid on some of the projects studied by the British Columbia Research Council when speaking of its accomplishments this week before a Victoria audience. Working quietly and without fanfare, the research workers of this province strive diligently to improve the quality of many commodities. He cited the range of activity, from metallurgical research to investigation of livestock diseases, the vitamin contents of fruits and other foods, and the improvement of equipment for catching fish.

These and many other fields studied by research workers are important to the economy of this province and to the well-being of its people. Industrial expansion, which means more employment, is aided and stimulated by the work done in the quietness of provincial laboratories. Recognition of the value of the contribution made by the Research Council is increasing; the Minister declared, in stating that a larger appropriation would be sought to continue the work of the council. Last year the Legislature voted the sum of $110,000 for the purpose. An increase in the amount devoted to research in British Columbia would be warranted, if funds were

Taxing Capital Sums

All during the course of the war a constant irritation in the income tax as it was interpreted, not by Parliament but by the officials of the income tax branch at Ottawa, was the readiness with which capital sums were declared suddenly to be income and taxed as such. We can recall a number of instances of that, over and above the position of annuitants who got action through a special commission which reviewed their case. The same thing is still happening, however. Only recently there have been a number of instances of superannuation sums being declared to be income and taxed on their lump sums. One or two local instances have come to light, and their settlement at Ottawa seems to have been conducted in the light of very strained constructions. If an individual works for the best part of a lifetime paying into a superannuation fund, and then retires, what he withdraws in a lump sum from the fund under any heading can only be capital. It can never be income in fact. Inasmuch as some of these principal sums upon withdrawal have been assessed and taxed as income, an obvious injustice has been done to those who are the least able to afford it. There should be immediate revision of such decisions, and, frankly, a more honest appreciation of all of the circumstances involved.

Seen in Passing

A woman may seldom put her real reasons out on the counter, but be assured that she has them, and that they appear to her as reasonable, as sound and as logical as her given excuses may be the reverse of all those.

Ballade of Primitive Man

He lived in a cave by the seas,
He lived upon oysters and foes,
But his list of forbidden degrees
An extensive morality shows;
Geological evidence goes
To prove he had never a pan,
But he shaved with a shell when he chose,
'Twas the manner of Primitive man!

He worshipped the rain and the breeze,
He worshipped the river that flows,
And the Dawn, and the Moon, and the trees,
And bogies, and serpents, and crows;
He buried his dead with their toes
Tucked up, an original plan,
Till their knees came right under their nose,
'Twas the manner of Primitive Man!

CURIOUS PARADOX

(Montreal Star)

Full-size advertisements in American papers, asking for funds to aid the terrorist organizations in Palestine carry the interesting information that such contributions are considered "charitable" by the treasury department and are therefore deductible for income tax purposes. The British Foreign Office has suggested to the U.S. State Department that this is, perhaps, a little odd.

It must greatly confuse the harassed negotiators in London and Jerusalem—to say nothing of the unhappy soldiers who are the ultimate targets of these "charitable" contributions—that the Washington administration which with one hand offers carloads of free advice on how to settle the problem, with the other hand virtually finances the terrorists who gravely jeopardize any hope of settlement.

VULGARITY IN NOVELS

(Toronto Star)

When Hugh McLennan, the Canadian novelist who wrote "Two Solitudes," attacked Canadian books as "too goody-goody," The Star protested that, on the other hand, too many modern novels go into too much detail about certain aspects of life; that there is an over-supply of too-raw literature . . .

Unfortunately the books which "go the limit" in language and subject matter are, in this age of readily accessible literature, easily obtained by the young as well as by those of mature age. Such books give young people a wrong idea not only of what constitutes decent conduct, but of the prevalence of indecency. If normal people resembled, in real life, the supposedly normal characters of much modern fiction, it would indeed be an unhappy world in which to live.

THEY REMEMBER A FRIEND

(Winnipeg Free Press)

It is typical of their character that the British people should be engaged at present in a vigorous debate on the subject of a statue of President Roosevelt. British society is rent by a peaceful revolution. The national economy staggers along under an almost insupportable load. Rations are low. The nation is dreadfully poor and no one can foresee the future. But the British people never forget the past and they never forget their friends. Among the first order of business in the postwar era, therefore, is the erection of a Roosevelt statue by public subscription.

No one argues against such a memorial. The question now debated in every newspaper is only the style of the memorial and, specifically, whether the stone figure of Roosevelt should stand erect or sit on a chair.

WITHOUT LEAVING THE SEAT

(Montreal Gazette)

A bank to be erected in Windsor, Ontario, will have a special convenience provided for motorists. A teller's wicket will be built into one of the walls, so that a motorist may drive up in his car and transact his business without leaving his seat.

Perhaps this convenience will satisfy an ancient human desire. For even in the days when clients rode to banks on horsebacks, there was the wish to avoid the necessity of dismounting. Indeed, in those days the urge not to dismount could be so strong as to become in fact irresistible.

The means of transportation have changed with the years. But the urge to do one's banking without leaving the riding or driving seat seems to have endured undiminished.

KILLING THE GOOSE

(Fort William Times-Journal)

The claim made by Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O., that business profits were a greater threat than anything that ever has confronted the American people, including Communism, has brought out trenchant comment from spokesmen for business in Canada.

Before the Quebec Board of Trade, Gordon Ross declared that "profit is the reward for initiative and assuming risks and for improvements in production technique . . . profit is a major source of capital . . . that buys machinery, builds factories, hires workers, finances research, expands production so that real wages may increase and hours of labor be shortened. Kill profit and you kill the goose that lays the golden eggs of production; kill profit and the rise in labor productivity will stop."

SURPLUS FORTRESS

(Windsor Daily Star)

When hundreds of tons of explosive charges go off about the end of March and blow the island of Heligoland into oblivion, the world will be able to breathe more freely. The blast will disintegrate one of the useless places on the earth's surface.

Heligoland is good for but one thing, to serve as an armed outpost for Continental Europe. Strategically, it can be used by any nation which chances to own it as a threat to the British Isles and to peaceful shipping in the area. It can have value only to acountry bent on aggression and conquest. The British, who have it back after 60 years, are doing the wise thing by wiping it out completely.

"SEATED ONE DAY AT THE ORGAN . . ." By Reidford

Midget Liners Ride Out Hurricanes on Land

LONDON.—In a quiet suburb of London, far from the nearest sea, midget liners ride out hurricanes and cargo steamers battle through Arctic blizzards.

In the National Physical Laboratory at Teddington (Middlesex), scientists take model ships, built as exact replicas of new vessels projected, and put them through tests that will show exactly how any proposed new design will come through extreme conditions.

Each new stride in shipbuilding technique or marine engineering is tried out first in the "pocket ocean" which has been constructed at Teddington. Eighty per cent of the ships which go down the slipways in Britain are first tested out in prototypes at Teddington in every form of stress the oceans can provide.

Today, British yards are building more than half the ships under construction in the whole world, one-third more than in 1939. America ranks as the second biggest shipbuilding country, with Sweden in third place. Tankers, trawlers, cargo steamers, luxury liners, paddle boats sliding down British slipways add up to 52.5 per cent of the world's tonnage, and output per man is the highest in the world. More than one-fifth of the ships under construction are for export.

The safety and speed of British ships, with their economical running, is no accident. It springs largely from the technological experiments of Britain's Clydeside and Wearside—and from the long term research in the national physical laboratories.

The tests made by the physicists at Teddington cover almost every problem connected with propulsion, powering, steering and behavior at sea.

At the laboratory there are two test tanks, a propeller tunnel and a model workshop. The waterway, called the Alfred Yarrow Tank, is 500 feet long, 30 feet wide and more than 12 feet deep, on the scale of the models used, this depth represents "open water."

Tests for higher speeds are made in another tank and both are fitted with machinery for making waves, so that the effect of heavy seas on hull resistance can be judged.

When new designs come off the draughtsman's board, any individual shipbuilders may submit them to the William Froude Laboratory for trial. If the plans are considered suitable for experiment, a model is cut which gives an exact scale reproduction. Ship models vary in length between 14 feet to 20 feet.

Since 1938, when a London-built vessel was the first iron ship to cross the Atlantic, British yards have pioneered a succession of remarkable developments. One of the most revolutionary projects since the transition from sail to steam was unveiled recently in Liverpool, the world's first jet-driven marine engine. Perfected secretly by a team of jet experts and scientists, it will soon be installed in a liner designed for the North Atlantic run.

Designing and building individual ships for specialized roles is a particular craft on the Clyde and along the North East Coast yards. It dates back to 1879 when the first refrigerator ship delivered a cargo of frozen meat from Australia. British-built floating docks are in service at ports all over the world. The heavy-lift ship and the cable ship are other examples of shipbuilding ingenuity. It was Britain that built the world's two largest ships, the Queen Mary, 81,000 gross tons, and the newly converted Queen Elizabeth, 83,673 gross tons.

Designs and all working drawings for Mr. Henry Kaiser's original Liberty vessels that were mass-produced in the United States during the war came from British firms.

Vessels "on the stocks" today carry the same brand of specialization and variety, such as a floating dock for a port on the Severn Estuary, caissons to replace those damaged at La Havre during the war, a sheep carrier for France, ore ships and an asphalt tanker.

The whaling factory tanker, like the recently-completed Baleana, is another outstanding type of ship being built today. Fitted with full-scale laboratories and processing plants, they act as "mother" ships to a fleet of small whale-chasers.

Replacing wartime losses, especially heavy merchant tolls, shipyards are busiest turning out cargo liners and cargo-passenger liners, between 8,000 and 15,000 tons, colliers and cross-channel ships. At the same time, hammers are ringing the shape into five luxury passenger liners of over 25,000 tons each. One of these will be decorated with particularly lavish trimmings and appointments.

Around the world customers are constantly placing new orders with Britain's firms—orders from Lisbon, New Zealand, Holland, Sweden, Panama, Brazil, France, Canada, Portugal, India, Switzerland, Egypt and Norway. Wartime building emergencies that put such a strain on Britain's shipyards have raised the standards of organization and technique higher than ever before. —United Kingdom Information Bureau.

Apparently some weather bureaus can make accurate forecasts. The one at Seattle predicted on Tuesday that the cold spell would end Thursday. It did . . . Good citizens were persons who cleaned the snow from sidewalks outside their dwellings. A city by-law provides for the prosecution of those who do not. There must have been many protests throughout Canada to cause the Federal Government to reduce the price of a Canadian citizenship certificate from $5 to $1 in the case of Canadian-born persons and others already naturalized. I still think the original intention of the $5 fee was to serve as a new source of revenue . . . Now that public ownership of the transportation system is before the City Council, it is interesting to recall the ghastly failure of the publicly-owned cold storage plant, grain elevator and woollen mill. It takes experts to run successful businesses . . . Judging by the long time it takes to toast a slice of bread and brew a pot of coffee after midnight, electric current must slip to a low voltage . . . The Canadian Association of Provincial Liquor Commissioners is in favor of retaining 30 underproof wartime weakened liquor. The reason is simple. Annual reports of provinces in which liquor is under government control show profits almost in astronomical figures. Provincial Governments naturally want to maintain those profits, and since the Federal Government excise tax is based on the strength of liquor, keeping spirits weak will do the trick . . . A few years ago service station operators petitioned the City Council for a by-law compelling them to close early and refrain from Sunday business. Now they want to give 24-hour service from July to September. Competition must be getting keen again.

Admiral Richmond

Contributed

Officers at Royal Roads, Naden and the Dockyard will regret to learn of the death of Admiral Sir Herbert Richmond, the naval historian. He died at Cambridge on Sunday, December 15, aged 73, and had been the Master of Downing College since 1937.

The son of Sir William Richmond, R.A., and the grandson of another R.A., he was one of the ablest naval men of his time. Before the Great War he commanded the first (all big gun) dreadnought, and was a battleship commander in the war itself. In 1920 he became president of the Royal Naval War College, Greenwich, and from 1927 till the following year was commandant of the Imperial Defence College. For a short time he was in charge of naval education.

Promoted admiral in 1929 he was retired in 1931 at his own request. Before becoming the Master of Downing he was Vere Harmsworth Professor of Naval and Imperial History at Cambridge.

In 1926 he had been awarded the Chesney Gold Medal of the Royal United Service Institution for his book, "The Navy in the War 1739-48." In the years immediately preceeding the recent war, he wrote books directed at rousing the nation to the effects of neglecting sea power. Books he published during the war included "Amphibious Warfare in British Strategy" and "The Invasion of Britain."

The writer has many letters from Sir Herbert, where he expressed his interest and admiration of the work done at Royal Roads, of which he was kept well informed. In January 1946 he told the writer that he began reading the life of Nelson at the age of 13 in the Britannia. He did not continue this reading until he had been at sea for four years, when he found Mahan's "Influence of Sea Power," which he read with avidity. There was no encouragement for junior officers to study history in those days. In 1899 Corbett's books came out and he began to study seriously. He advised young officers to begin studying young, say 18 years of age, with the lives of great seamen. He had just finished (January, 1946) a book "On Statesmen and Seapowers." It attempts to show how the statesmen in their country from Elizabeth's time to today have either fostered or neglected the country's seapower in peace. He had a large book on the stocks, though whether he would live to complete it he would not attempt to forsee.

Last Summer, Instructor Lieutenant J. S. Langlois of Royal Roads was at Cambridge, but was not able to meet him. The writer also had not had the pleasure of meeting Sir Herbert.—F. V. Longstaff.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the ten of hearts, holding the trick. He continued with the four of hearts, and East won with the jack. East then laid down the heart ace. South unhappily put up the queen of trumps, but was somewhat relieved when West could do nothing more dangerous than discard a diamond.

After heaving a sigh of relief, South did a little elementary thinking. Clearly West did not hold the king of trumps, for he would have been delighted to over-ruff. Equally clearly, a trump finesse could not succeed, and the only chance to avoid the loss of a trump trick was to lead to dummy's ace in the hope that East's trump king was blank.

This simple analysis bore fruit, for declarer did catch the lone king of spades and therefore made his contract.

East had made it possible for South to deduce unmistakably the winning line of play. East could be sure, from the bidding, that his partner could not possibly hold a high trump. Hence he knew that West could not over-ruff South on the third round of hearts. That third round could, therefore, do the defence no good, but it could do declarer some good by warning him that a trump finesse would not succeed. At the third trick East should have switched to a club or a diamond, leaving South to make his own guess about trumps. The chances are that South would have taken the trump finesse and met defeat.

Three Provinces Affirm Ottawa Tax Agreements

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—Brunswick, Manitoba and Saskatchewan today concluded the renegotiation of taxation agreements with the Dominion, but the details of the new agreements were cloaked in secrecy.

It is known that the Dominion put forward a formula aimed at equalizing the subsidies the Federal Government proposes to pay the various provinces for almost exclusive use of such major tax fields as personal income, corporation, and succession duties.

The details of that formula, a key point in the renegotiation discussions, probably will not be made public before next week. However, the progress made in the discussions indicated that it fulfilled demands for equalization of $15 per capita subsidies offered New Brunswick, Manitoba and Saskatchewan with the $21 subsidies offered British Columbia and Prince Edward Island.

The discussions ended in atmosphere of almost general optimism. Hon. Clarence Fines, Provincial Treasurer for Saskatchewan, predicted that by the end of the month seven, if not all nine provinces, will have signed new taxation agreements with the Dominion.

Finance Minister Abbott said "Most satisfactory progress had been made," and the three provinces were to report the result of the discussions to their respective Cabinets "without delay."

In a statement announcing the conclusion of the discussions, Mr. Abbott disclosed he had been informed Premier Manning of Alberta will reach Ottawa next Wednesday to discuss a taxation agreement.

Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island announced in Charlottetown that he was leaving for Ottawa for taxation discussions. It is believed he is coming to put the final touches to an agreement already accepted in principle.

Guard Present When Food Coupons Stolen

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—Imaginative devices for rescuing food ration coupons from the whirling knives and churning liquids of a chemical vat so they could be sold illegally were described in court today as five men pleaded guilty to complicity in a ring termed by the Crown as responsible for "huge black market operations."

From under the very noses of Prices Board inspectors supervising destruction of the coupons, employees of the E. B. Eddy Company's paper mill at nearby Hull, Que., snatched many thousands of coupons out of the destroying vat and later put them on the black market, a police officer told the court.

More than 15,000 butter, sugar and meat coupons have been received by the R.C.M.P., Cpl. R. W. James testified, and he added "we don't know how many more were taken" in the thefts stretching at least from February 1 to October 31, 1946.

The five who pleaded guilty today were the first to go on trial out of 18 persons rounded up by the R.C.M.P. in their smashing of the ring this month. Several more arrests were expected.

Fines of $800 on one man and $100 on the other four were imposed by Magistrate Glen Strike in magistrate's court.

Pleading guilty today were:

G. Howard Lamb, three charges involving coupons and rationed foods and one of making a false statement to a police officer, $800 or six months.

Emery E. LeBlanc, three ration charges, $100 or six weeks.

Adrien Provost, three ration charges, $100 or six weeks.

Rolland Arvisais, three ration charges, $100 or six weeks.

Cosimo John Mandia, one ration charge, $100 or six weeks.

Plaque to Mark War Conference

QUEBEC CITY, Jan. 17.— The same courtyard which saw the military and diplomatic heads of Great Britain, the United States and Canada in two vital conferences between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill during the late war with Prime Minister King as host will hold stage centre again briefly tomorrow morning in an international way when a plaque is unveiled commemorating the Chateau Frontenac's historic role in the Quebec conferences of August, 1943, and September, 1944.

External Affairs Minister Louis St. Laurent, representing Prime Minister King and Canada, will unveil the plaque on the left side of the main entrance to the famous hostelry from the inside courtyard. British High Commissioner Sir Alexander Clutterbuck and United States Ambassador Ray Atherton will be their countries' official representatives at the ceremony.

Liberals to Meet February 4-6

OTTAWA, Jan. 17 (CP).—A meeting of the advisory council of the National Liberal Federation will be held here February 4-6, inclusive, J. Gordon Fogo, president, announced tonight after a meeting of the national executive. The meeting will consider resolutions relating to party policy and other matters of a political nature.

The council consists of Liberal delegates from each province and includes representatives of the National Federation of Liberal Women and of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada.

Better and Costlier Valentines To Be Marketed This Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP). — This February 14 you can have plastic hearts, real lace, mirrors, Cellophane windows or real hair on the tender message you send to your valentine—if he or she commands the 25-cents-and-up variety.

And, says Mr. Valentine, even in the lower brackets, this year's valentines have more "verve" than they've had for years.

"Verve" is the term Mr. Valentine, also known as Stephen Q. Shannon, head of Greeting Card Industry, Inc., used today to describe a trend toward gayer, more carefree valentines than valentine-senders have seen in years.

One thing that helps to produce it is the return of plastics and other materials that disappeared during the war. During the war years Mr. Valentine shook his head sadly at each new crop, bewailing their lack of "punch."

Now the ladies on the sentimental billets-doux have real rhinestones in their hair, real lace on their gowns and real hair. The plastic arts have produced everything from glowing hearts to "peas in a pod" that look like real ones.

The carefree motif, Mr. Valentine continued, has led to more of what he calls "cutie pie" valentines.

The "cutie pie" type, he explained, used to be confined mainly to valentines sent by or to children. Now, apparently, adult valentines are likely to be "cuter" than the kids'.

The good old comic valentine seems to have died and been buried. A few still are sold, but they aren't the fashion. The industry doesn't like to call them "comic" anyway; they're "nasty things" and Shannon prefers to call them "slam valentines."

The newest fad, he says, is toward sophistication.

Bad Coughs Yield Quickly To This Home Mixture

Surprisingly Quick Relief. No Cooking. Saves Money.

Here's a medicine for coughs due to colds, that you mix in your own kitchen. It's so easy to prepare that anyone can do it. Once tried, you'll never again be without it in your home.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. No trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes 16 ounces—a family supply—of excellent cough medicine. It's thrifty, too—about four times as much for your money. And children take it willingly, because it tastes so good.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that really satisfies. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable agent for soothing throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

T.C.A. Crash Kills 2 Pilots

HEADINGLY, Man., Jan. 17 (CP).—Trans-Canada Airlines officials were tonight examining bits of wreckage from a Lockheed plane which crashed at approximately 2:15 p.m. (C.S.T.) four miles west of here, killing both pilots. There were no other persons aboard the aircraft.

Killed were Capt. G. E. Brown, 24, and First Officer G. R. Symington, both of Winnipeg, who lived within a few doors of each other on residential Clifton Street. In a statement issued tonight T.C.A. officials said they had not yet ascertained the cause of the crash.

The plane was on a routine training flight at the time, and had communicated with the company's communication base at Stevenson Field, Winnipeg, seven minutes before the crash. The message contained no mention of trouble.

It was the first T.C.A. fatality since last Labor Day, September 2, when two men were killed near Moncton, N.B., also while on a routine training flight.

Low Car Prices In Year or More

BOSTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Substantially lower prices for cars are still "a year or more away" because of production bottlenecks and an urgent demand for new cars, H. C. Doss, vice-president of Nash-Kelvinator Corp., and general manager of Nash Motors, said today.

Doss, at a press conference, added that the degree and speed with which prices can be lowered "will depend on the cost of labor and the flow of materials allowing higher levels of production."

Schipa Generous in Response To Many Demands for 'More'

Coming back again and again to the repeated and insistent applause from the audience, the great Schipa, responding with an amazing generosity, kept his audience enthralled until the lights were dimmed at the Royal Theatre last evening.

Tito Schipa, hailed as the "greatest tenor of our time" and world famous exponent of bel canto, gave a magnificent performance with a program of varied appeal to his audience, which packed the theatre.

"M'Appari," always a highlight on a Schipa recital, followed a group of superb Scarlatti, and was sung with power and mastery which moved the audience to warmth of applause.

Singing with ease and exuberance throughout, Schipa tossed off the harlequin serenade from Pagliacci, on top of the stirring "Una Furtiva Lagrima" from "L'Elisir d'Amore" by Donisetti. "I Shall Return," his own composition, called forth "bravos" and was given again as an encore.

The purity with which he sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," another encore, was matched by the supreme artistry he gave to Pergolesi's "Nina."

The full program included:

"Sento Nel Core," Scarlatti; "Se Florindo E' Fedele," Scarlatti; "Le Violette," Scarlatti.

"Nocturne," Op. 15, No. 2, Chopin; "Waltz," Op 42, Chopin. Ralph Linsley, piano.

"M'Appari," from "Martha," Flotow; "Una Furtiva Lagrima," from "L'Elisir D'Amore," Donizetti; Arlequin's Serenade from "Pagliacci," Leoncavello.

"Minstrels," Debussy; "Piece en forme de Habanera," Ravel-Erincourt; "Malaguena," Lecuona. Ralph Linsley, piano.

"In the Louxembourg Gardens," Manning; "I Shall Return," Schipa; "Chi Se Ne Scorda Cchiu," Berthelemy.

Other encores included "Maria Chiara" by Schipa; "Fa La Nana" by Schero; "Mi Vierjo Amor," "Comme Fasetta Mametta," and "Mare Chiare" by Tosti.

Ralph Linsley, at the piano, gave the singer full and sympathetic support with his accompaniment. Not a small part of the program were the two piano interludes. "Nocturne," Opus 15, No. 2, and "Waltz," Opus 42, by Chopin, were given with artistry and warmth of tone; the song numbers, "Minstrels" by Debussy, "Piece En Forme de Habanera" by Ravel-Erincourt, and "Malaguena" by Lecuona, drew applause for encores from the musician.

Postwar Employment Of Women Well Up

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP).—The postwar employment level of women has held up well and wartime predictions of a sharp drop in the number of women employed in the United States were "too dire," Miss Frieda Miller, director of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor, said today.

Miss Miller told a press conference that approximately 17,000,000 women are employed and there seems no need to fear any sudden drop in this figure. This compares with 19,500,000 employed at the wartime peak and 13,000,000 in 1940.

The greatest demand for women is in the field of household help, Miss Miller said, adding that work seekers "are just plain not taking this kind of job." She said women would not take these jobs until wages and working conditions were standardized.

Clare Boothe Luce Addresses Luncheon

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP).—Clare Boothe Luce said in an address today that "Men will be better, wiser and more peace-loving when they are reared by wiser, tenderer, more intelligent and unselfish women."

Speaking at a luncheon meeting sponsored by the round-the-world Y.W.C.A. reconstruction fund campaign for $2,100,000, the writer and former Congresswoman told 2,000 women guests:

"Our great failure is not that we have failed to be politicians or statesmen, or scientists or soldiers or scholars. It is simply that we have failed so tragically to be better women."

Life of Seal Described by Dr. C. Carl

In an address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel, Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, spoke on "Seals of the Pribilof Islands" and illustrated his talk with excellent Technicolor films.

The films traced the life history of the seals, showing the animals leaving the California coast travelling north to the Pribilof Islands, where they stay for several months. It is here that the young pups are born, and the films depicted many aspects of the seals' activities.

Dr. Carl explained how the seals are selected for commercial use, stating that they must be three years old before they are killed. Pictures showing the processing of the skins were also shown. Most of the skins are sent to the United States for commercial use, but 20 per cent are sent to Ottawa, where they are processed for Canadian use.

The films also showed the many varieties of birds which nest upon the rocky cliffs of the islands, many of the birds being familiar to this coast. The many lovely varieties of wild flowers were also seen. The modern settlement on St. Paul's Island was shown with pictures of the inhabitants.

Mrs. Kenneth Drury, who was in the chair, thanked the speaker for his interesting address. Mrs. T. Dixon was the soloist.

The bride, who was escorted by Mr. W. C. Winkel, wore a turquoise blue suit with blue accessories. A corsage bouquet of gardenias and red roses completed her ensemble. Attending the couple were Mrs. E. D. Ironside, a sister of the groom, and Mr. Jack McLaughlin.

Plan to Plant Fir Seedlings

Planting of about 3,500,000 red cedar trees and Douglas fir seedlings in the Horne Lake and Campbell River areas may begin next week as a start in the British Columbia Forest Service program of reforestation this year.

Seedlings to be planted will be four-year-olds, left over from stocks that should have been planted in 1945 but had to remain in the nurseries because labor was unobtainable.

NO. 31—EIGHTY-NINTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1947

To Include Schroeder In Ranking

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP).—A rather red-faced set of United States lawn tennis officials meet tomorrow for some emergency repairs on their 1946 national ranking list, which, by a remarkable oversight, failed to include the name of one Ted Schroeder.

It seems that, since the tentative ranking was published about a month ago, this Schroeder went out to Australia and made a hero of himself, teaming up with Jack Kramer to hand the Aussies an unexpected licking in Davis Cup play.

So, hiding their blushes, the boys are going to gather around the large and gleaming Davis Cup in a downtown hotel and, in a spirit of post-holiday cheer, make it all up to Ted. The probability is they will install him in the No. 2 position in the approved ranking, dropping Frankie Parker to No. 3 and letting all the others down one notch. Kramer, of course, is No. 1.

Walter Pate, who shepherded the cup team to Australia as non-playing captain, said today he would recommend it, and Holcombe Ward, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, said there was no reason it shouldn't be done.

Schroeder was not included in the original ranking because of "insufficient data," meaning principally that he did not play in the United States championships at Forest Hills. He was building a home in California at the time and felt he needed to be on the spot.

Under the revised ranking, as forecast, the list would look like this:

1. Kramer; 2, Schroeder; 3, Parker; 4, Tom Brown; 5, Gardnar Mulloy; 6, Billy Talbert; 7, Don McNeill; 8, Bob Falkenburg; 9, Eddie Moylan; 10, Pancho Segura.

Globetrotters Down Hornets

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—The touring Harlem Globetrotters turned back Vancouver Hornets of the Pacific Coast Pro Basketball League 64-47 in an exhibition basketball game here tonight.

Ted Strong led the Harlem quintette with 20 points, while George Andrews was high marksman for Hornets, slipping the ball through the hoop for 17 points.

Lineups:

Harlem — Tatum 12, Pressley 8, Strong 20, Robinson 10, Price 9, Moore 4, Sealy. Total 64.

Vancouver — Andrews 17, Chapman 7, Baker 4, Nichol 3, Lawn 4, Clarkson 3, Sykes 7, Peden 2.

Royals Now Tied For Second Spot

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17 (CP).—New Westminster Royals climbed into a second-place tie with Seattle in the Pacific Coast Hockey League Northern Division standings by defeating Canucks 5-3 here tonight.

It was the third game in three nights for the Royals, who pressed the contest from the opening whistle.

Red Carr and Ollie Doroney, with a brace each, and Johnny Rypien, with a singleton, were the Royal City marksmen. Mel Neilson with two and Andy Clovechuk with one scored for Canucks.

Game Club Will Hold Working Bee Sunday

Members of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Protective Association are asked to turn out for a working bee on the new clubhouse project at Goldstream Park.

Following a meeting last night, executive members stated that there will be any amount of work all day for any members caring to volunteer. A bulldozer will be in use building a road and felling trees. Axes will be the only tools required by volunteers, who should also bring lunches. Transportation will be provided from Hughes Motors at 8:30 a.m.

Clarksons Turn Back Macdonalds

Fighting hard for a play-off spot, Macdonald's almost turned the trick on Clarksons, dropping a 33-30 decision in a senior "B" men's tussle at Victoria High School last night. Losers still have a chance to cop a play-off berth when they meet Navy Monday.

Chinese Students walked off the floor in the third quarter to lose an intermediate "B" boys' game by default to K.V.'s. Students objected to the refereeing. Hot Shots defeated Hep Cats 38-18 in the girls' opener.

With Gar Taylor in uniform to to aid the cause, losers were ahead by one point only once during the final frames but they staged a game fight before bowing to the painters.

Macdonalds started a third-quarter drive culminated by two nifty baskets by Sonny Gicas which put them ahead 24-23 at the three-quarter mark. Teams matched baskets during the final action-packed quarter and were tied 30-30 a few minutes before time.

Three foul shots scored by Duncan (2), and Curtis of Clarksons gave them the margin of victory. Winners froze the ball successfully as Macdonald's committed several fouls in a vain attempt to secure possession. Duncan and Gicas tied for scoring honors with 11 points each.

Behind 16-11 in the third quarter Chinese Students refused to play further when they objected to a fifth personal foul and a technical awarded against Jimmy John for talking back to the referees. The game was the last in the intermediate "B" league schedule and leaves the second-place Tillicums and Students to play off for the right to meet the top-place K.V.'s in the final.

Hot Shots extended thgir win streak over Hep Cats in the last junior girls' game, winning 38-18.

"Y" Swimmers Ready to Face Strong Collegiate Opposition Tonight

—Colonist Photo.

ALTHOUGH it is generally conceded that the opposition may be more than they can handle, Victoria's undefeated Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club are confidently expecting to put up a great struggle at the Crystal Garden this evening when they match strokes with the University of Washington team, rated one of the top U.S. college aggregations. Coach Archie McKinnon's squad are given a chance in the back and breast stroke events and the medley relay, but will have to turn in an upset to take many of the points in the free style events. Fans are urged to be on time for the first event—the 150-yard medley relay—which should be one of the best races on the program. In the above group are: Coach McKinnon; Eric Jubb, 50-yard backstroke and free style and both relays; Ron Neilson, both free style events and the free style relay; Dick Bowden, 100-yard backstroke and medley relay; Len Coverdale, 50 and 100-yard breast stroke; Gordie Lawrence, 100-yard free style and free style relay; Peter Salmon, 50 and 100-yard breast stroke and both relays; Bill Turkington, 50 and 100-yard backstroke; George H. Morgan, club president.

Mangrum Fires Sub-Par Round

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 17. (AP).—Staving off all challenges with another blistering sub-par performance, Lloyd Mangrum shot a 67 today to hold his lead at the halfway mark in the 72-hole, $10,000 Richmond open golf tournament.

His 131 total for the two rounds left him still one stroke ahead of of George Schoux of San Bruno, Calif., in one of the wildest sub-par scrambles of any tournament.

Tied for third place at 133 as the field was cut to 60, plus ties, were beltin' Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas.

Ben Colk of Vancouver, B.C., posted 145, 14 strokes off the place His cards were 71 and 74.

Portland Indians Protest Player Raid By New York Pro Hoopsters

PORTLAND, Ore. Jan. 17 (AP).—Owners of Portland Indians of the Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League today protested what they called an attempted "player raid" by New York Knickerbockers of the Basketball Association of America.

Owners Ray Clark and Otis Anderson said the Knickerbockers offered John Mandic, high-scoring Indian forward, a $2,000 bonus to sign with them plus a $1,000 monthly salary. They said Mandic turned down the offer.

Clark and Anderson said they would carry the protest to Ward Lambert, commissioner of the National Association of Professional Basketball Leagues, although the association has no jurisdiction over the Basketball Association of America.

Alter Cricket Rules

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Two important alterations are embodied in a rare revision of the rules of cricket by the Marylebone Cricket Club, the ruling body of the sport.

The complete revision, the first in 63 years and only the fourth in cricket history, will come into effect in 1948 following perfunctory approval at a general meeting of the club May 7.

Proposed changes were circulated world wide in 1945 for comment, then were worked into the final draft by the M.C.C. rules committee at the end of last year. Major cricket-playing countries which compete in the "test" matches are England, Australia, India, South Africa, the West Indies and New Zealand.

Cricket enthusiasts will find no drastic changes. Yet there are two big alterations: (a) The wicket no longer will be considered "down" if a ball has merely been dislodged—it must have fallen off the stump; and (b) The last over of a match will be played right out at the request of either captain even if a wicket falls after time has been reached.

Under present rules, if the wicket falls within two minutes of time, the stumps are pulled unless the incoming batsman claims his right to bat for the time remaining. This gives the batting side an unfair advantage.

Many ambiguities have been removed and the laws—reduced by 13 to a total of 47—have been divided into five sections. They are: 1, Players, umpires, corers; 2, implements of the game and the ground; 3, care and maintenance of the pitch; 4, conduct of the game, and 5, duties of the umpires.

For the first time the pitch is clearly defined as the area of ground between the bowling creases five feet in width on either side of the line joining the centre of the wickets. After the toss for innings, the umpires are to control the use and maintenance of this.

Ice Champs Drub Coast Puck Squad

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Jan. 17 (CP).—Winnipeg Monarchs, Canadian junior hockey champions last season, racked up the first win of their current Pacific Coast tour as they drubbed New Westminster Cubs 4-1 in an exhibition game here tonight.

The visitors' goals were scored by Ray Scott, Cam Millar, Bill Johnson and Gordon Scott. Ed Varga rammed home the only Cubs' marker of the evening just after the half-way mark of the middle session to save the Pacific Coast Hockey League leaders from a whitewash.

But the stars of the game—Winnipeg's rangy netminder Roy McMeekin and stylish centre Ed Buchanan—didn't score. McMeekin won rounds of applause for his sterling play in the nets which robbed New Westminster of seemingly sure goals throughout the night, while Buchanan set up plays for three of Monarchs' four goals.

Monarchs left tonight for Nanaimo, B.C., where they are scheduled to meet Nanaimo Clippers tomorrow night. Last night Clippers held the junior titlists to a 3-3 draw. Monarchs tied Vancouver White Spots 2-2 in their first coast fixture.

Twelve bouts are carded and spectators are promised an interesting evening.

Victoria Tug Weathers Storms Towing Vessel From San Pedro

One of the most unusual towing jobs undertaken by a Victoria tug will reach a successful conclusion this morning at Vancouver.

Early today the 150-foot steam-powered tug Snohomish, pride of Island Tug & Barge, Ltd., will enter Vancouver Harbor with the 10,000-ton freighter Ss. Lake Sicamous in tow.

The large ship, which lost her propeller in a storm off the Panama Canal zone, will have been towed approximately 1,163 miles when she finally docks at the Mainland.

According to information received yesterday, the freighter, owned by Western Canada Steamships, Ltd., Vancouver, lost her propeller off Panama, and was towed by American tugs to San Pedro.

To bring the stricken vessel to British Columbia waters, the Snohomish was dispatched to San Pedro on December 30. She left that port at midnight January 8, and on the way up the Pacific Coast ran into heavy seas and several storms.

The two vessels were practically standing still for four days in giant swells of a Pacific storm about half way to Victoria, it is reported. The freighter's crew is comprised of British Columbia men, and many anxious calls have been received by the owners in Vancouver from persons whose relatives serve on the ship. No one has been injured, according to reports received yesterday.

Tug and freighter passed Victoria about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. They are scheduled to pass through the Narrows, Vancouver, between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning.

Carrying a full cargo, the freighter will be unloaded at Vancouver, and will then undergo repairs at a British Columbia shipyard. It is possible the necessary repair work will be done at a Victoria yard.

Under the command of Capt. F. R. MacFarlane, the Snohomish will return to Victoria sometime tonight, officials of the towning firm said.

Welfare Body Will Face $10,000 Deficit

The Greater Victoria Community Chest Committee has endorsed statements made by Howard Clarke, Community Chest auditor, that Victoria should be capable of raising $250,000 for welfare work.

The committee agreed that the difficulty appeared to be that the multiplicity of calls made by independent organizations was taking up too much time of business people who were asked to act as canvassers. This was also said to be confusing to donors.

"The Community Chest was organized to centralize the raising of funds for welfare work in one body and to supervise the expenditures of such funds," stated Denis Hagar, chairman.

It was further pointed out that the Community Chest acts at all times on behalf of the people of Victoria as a protective body between the donors of funds and the social service agency.

"The chest is willing and anxious to include in its budget any and all agencies performing social services acceptable to the people of Victoria," said James D. Munro, another chest official.

Mr. Hagar also announced following a meeting Thursday that the chest will be operating under a $10,000 deficit by the end of 1947.

To further cut the budgets of the 23 member agencies would mean a serious curtailment of necessary welfare services in the communities and the directors do not feel that this can be done at the present time.

On recommendation of the budget committee the budgets as presented by the agencies were accepted by the board. It was pointed out that originally the agencies had shown a need for almost $120,000 but drastic economies had cut this to $103,000 and the chest campaign had sought $100,000. However, only $93,000 had been raised which left a $10,000 deficit.

Three Revolvers Stolen From Store

Three revolvers and a quantity of ammunition were stolen from the sporting goods store of Wilson & Lemfesty, 1225 Government Street, on Thursday night, city police reported yesterday.

Police said the store was entered through a rear window, which was broken after an attempt to force open a door had failed.

Red Cross to Hold Annual Meeting

ANNUAL meeting of the Victoria Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, will be held Wednesday, January 29, at 2.30 p.m., in the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Election of officers will be held and the meeting will be attended by Dr. W. Stewart Stanbury, Toronto, assistant national commissioner and director of the blood donor service, and P. S. McGergow, Vancouver, president of the Red Cross provincial branch.

Nominations for officers in 1947 will be received in writing at Red Cross Headquarters, 602 Broughton Street, until 24 hours before the annual meeting is held.

Crown Appeal Is Dismissed

Appeal by the Crown against acquittal of the firm of George Straith, Ltd., of Victoria, on a charge under the Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations was dismissed by Judge C. J. Lennox in a judgment handed down in County Court yesterday.

Reasons for his decision would be announced later, Judge Lennox stated.

The company was charged with entering into an agreement with John Yee Lowe for the purchase of textiles at prices higher than it had reason to believe were just and reasonable.

Case was dismissed by Magistrate Henry C. Hall, K.C., in city police court in July last year.

J. B. Clearihue, K.C., was counsel for the Crown. H. W. Davey, K.C., appeared for the clothing firm.

A building permit was issued yesterday to A. R. Hooper for a four-room house at 720 Russell Street, to cost $6,000.

Little Stories for Bedtime

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE MYSTERY OF MANY LITTLE HOLES

When Peter Rabbit came out on the bank of the Big River, he was disappointed to find that Plunger the Osprey was nowhere in sight. Peter sat around awhile and then made up his mind to return the way he had come. Just then from farther up the Big River he heard the harsh, rattling cry of Rattles the Kingfisher. It suddenly occurred to him that perhaps Rattles had his nest somewhere in the bank of the Big River.

Peter hurried in the direction of Rattles' voice. Presently he came out on a little sandy beach. There he squatted for a minute blinking his eyes, for the sun was very bright. Then a little way beyond he saw something that in his eager curiosity made him quite forget that he was out in the open where it was anything but safe for a Rabbit to be. What he saw was a high sandy bank.

With a hasty glance this way and that way to make sure that no enemy was in sight Peter scampered along the edge of the water till he was right at the foot of that sandy bank. Then he squatted down and looked eagerly for the hole of Rattles the Kingfisher. Instead of one hole he saw a lot of holes. They were small holes. He knew right away that Rattles couldn't get in or out of a single one of them. In fact, those holes in the bank were bigger than the holes Downy the Woodpecker makes in trees. Peter couldn't imagine who or what had made them. They seemed to him very mysterious.

As he sat there staring and wondering, a trim little head appeared at the entrance to one of these holes. This trim little head had a very small bill and a snowy white throat. At first glance Peter thought it was his old friend Skimmer the Tree Swallow. With a lively twitter of greeting the owner of that little hole in the bank flew out and circled

"Wha-wha-what are you doing there?" stammered Peter over Peter's head. It wasn't Skimmer at all; it was Banker the Bank Swallow, a cousin to Skimmer the Tree Swallow. He was a little smaller than Skimmer and not nearly so handsome. His back, instead of being beautiful rich steel-blue, was a sober greyish-brown. His breast, instead of being all snowy white, was crossed with a brownish band. His tail was more nearly square across the end than is the case with other members of the Swallow family.

"Wha-wha-what are you doing there?" stammered Peter, his eyes popping right out with curiosity and excitement.

"Why, that's my home," twittered Banker happily.

"Do-do-do you mean to say that you live in a hole in the ground?" cried Peter. "Somehow it is hard for me to think of birds as living in holes in the ground."

By this time the air was full of Banker's friends circling this way and that and going out of the little holes in the bank. "We Bank Swallows like our homes close together," exclaimed Banker. "We are quite as social as Twitter the Purple Martin."

Allies' Aims in Germany Limited By Cold and Hunger Club Told

"You cannot sell democracy to a cold and hungry man," Brig. J. W. F. Treadwell, former director of public relations to the British Control Commission in Germany, warned in an address before the Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

He outlined the problems faced by the commission since the end of the war, its progress and hopes for the future.

At the conclusion of the war, there was a cataclysmic collapse in Germany, he explained. The Allied armies found no police on the job, no newspapers, no telephones, no telegraphs, no trains running, no schools open—in short, a complete breakdown in community life. In addition to millions of prisoners, there were millions of slave laborers "drunk with freedom."

Brig. Treadwell said "cleaning up the mess was a tremendous job" because in addition to the physical collapse there was a complete spiritual collapse among the German people. They were completely apathetic and hopeless.

In contrast the British authorities in their own zone had now opened virtually all schools, police and courts were operating, public utilities were partly restored, newspapers were operating and 30 per cent of train traffic restored.

PEOPLE REMAIN COLD AND HUNGRY

But, he added, the people were still desperately cold and hungry.

The demilitarization job was done; the German General Staff and the key industrialists backing them had been broken up and placed behind barbed wire, while the Russians had taken care of the Junkers. A policy had been adopted of allowing sufficient industrial production to maintain the economy but not enough to permit building up of war potential.

Denazification had taken a greater time because of the difficulty of separating "the sheep from the goats" and the need for a time of keeping known Nazis with key skills in their jobs to keep the country fed.

In order to achieve true democracy in Germany, Brig. Treadwell contended, the control commission should remain in Germany at least 40 years, gradually relinquishing the functions of government. This would permit children of today, educated under a democratic tradition, to become the leaders of their country.

Meanwhile the commission was starting at the bottom, with local municipal governments being elected first, and gradually moving to the higher forms.

Every aim of the Allies in Germany is limited, however, said Brig. Treadwell, by hunger and cold which turns hope in democracy for which the Germans are now eager into apathy which provides the basis for the dictatorships of Fascism and Communism.

It is vitally urgent to obtain a decent level of life, he maintained, and in order to do this production of coal must be constantly increased. Without coal there was a vicious circle of lack of housing, food and clothing.

Hope for the immediate future lies in the economic fusion of the British and U.S. areas, increased production and the fact that some good leaders are coming forth who realize that the Germans must help themselves, he said.

The long term hopes would depend on the outcome of the Moscow conference.

Claim Holders Will Benefit From Rulings

Widening of the types of survey or examination that may be counted by mineral claim holders against the minimum requirements in assessment work that must be undertaken annually was approved by the Provincial Government yesterday in the form of regulations under the Mineral Act and Placer Mining Act.

Under earlier regulations, holders of mineral claims that are not Crown granted were required to have $100 worth of assessment work done on each claim every year.

In future, cost of geological or geophysical surveys or examinations by or under the supervision of registered professional engineers will be allowed, and it will not be mandatory for stripping, tunneling and similar work to be undertaken in the annual assessment program.

Officials say saving in assessment cost will be material for those holding blocks of claims.

Hazardous Arctic Trips Described By Skipper of R.C.M.P. Patrol Boat

In the comparatively warm confines of the Empress Hotel, members of the Lions Club yesterday were taken on a mental journey to the Arctic regions of Canada.

They listened to Inspector H. A. Larsen, skipper of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol vessel St. Roche, who reviewed his journeys to the frozen and barren Arctic expanses of Canada.

His address was based on the first trip through the Northwest Passage, which commenced in 1940. He told of the hardships which he, his crew of nine, and his ship, met in the northern wastes.

There were times, Inspector Larsens said, when his wooden ship became frozen for as long as 11 months at a stretch. "Often we feared the ice would crush our boat, but luckily it never did," he said.

Duties of the men were manifold, he continued. They included investigation work relative to crime, collecting of information and data regarding the area, enforcement of preservation laws, and maintaining the sovereign rights of the land. His men, he said, had been on land never before known to white men.

Speaking of the Eskimos, Inspector Larsen said it was a recognized custom for the aged and infirm natives to commit suicide rather than remain a burden on others. "It is a tough life for them," the speaker added.

While on patrols, the inspector continued, his men were the same type of clothing as is worn by the natives.

Although Eskimo guides were employed along most of the patrols, their services were not required in some parts of the northlands, the speaker said, "because in those areas, the natives knew about as much about them as we did, and that was not very much."

"Often we had to travel 400 miles to pick up our mail," the speaker added.

A member of the R.C.M.P. since 1928, Inspector Larsen is proud of his ship, and he beamed yesterday as he mentioned that his ship was the first to ever carry the Union Jack to many parts of the Arctic regions of this country.

Municipal Briefs Of the District

"We made no progress," was the only comment offered by Mayor Percy E. George yesterday following a special meeting of the police commission to discuss the Victoria police union's demand for better working conditions and higher wages.

A five-hour meeting between the commission and the union's bargaining representatives on Tuesday ended in a deadlock on the question of wages. The union demanded a 15-cent an hour increase across the board, but agreed to discuss a 12-cent raise.

The commission declined to settle for this amount and asked union representatives to postpone discussions.

Agreement has been reached on all major points except wages.

Mayor George said he would call another meeting of the commission within a few days.

Two sealed tenders for the City Hall were on hand yesterday when the time for bids ended at noon, M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, city lands commissioner, announced yesterday.

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, lands committee chairman, said he had no idea as to who had made the offers. This information will not be disclosed until the tenders are opened at the City Council meeting Monday afternoon.

Civic service committee will recommend to the City Council Monday that the former school board offices in the City Hall be taken over to provide more space for offices and committee rooms, Ald. Diggon said yesterday.

The parks committee is considering a request from the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club that the city take over maintenance of the grounds in return for payment of a lump sum by the club, according to Ald. McTavish.

Sale of 41 parcels of city-owned land at $17,500 will be recommended to the council Monday, Ald. Dewar, lands committee chairman, said yesterday. Ten of the lots are going to veterans for a total of $1,320.

New Members Attend Smoker

In order to give new members a chance to meet informally before the opening of the sailing season, more than 75 members attended a stag smoker Thursday night at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

First of the club's activities during the new year, a full evening's entertainment was provided and refreshments served.

Enrollment at the club now totals 350 members, 60 of whom have joined since the end of sailing in the Fall, it was announced.

As a continuance of the wartime educational program, a series of talks on sailing, open to members, friends and the general public, have been planned for the rest of the Winter.

The classes will be held at the club every other Monday night, starting at 8 p.m. It was announced. First talk planned will be held next Monday, when R. V. James will lecture on "Wind and Weather." On Monday, February 3, J. M. Green will address the meeting on "Aids to Navigation, Buoyage."

Committee in charge of Thursday night's smoker was under the direction of Humphrey Goldby, chairman.

CULL LUMBER AT LESS THAN THE price of wood. This lumber cannot be sold commercially because of being off size in width and thickness, or has pitch streaks, but nevertheless it is a good wood and the low price is based on its repair bases, sidewalks, fences and garden stakes. Even if all this lumber was cut into wood it would be worth more than $10 per cord. Especially true for people who live on side of road and will haul it away as wood. This lumber is 10 to 12 feet long, 6 inch boards and planks and lumber up to 20 feet long.

DEAREST READER
PLEASE READ ME

I blush when I say it but I am a beautiful white stucco bungalow. I was born about 1939 so I am only 7 years old. Naturally, I am made of the very finest of materials—in fact, I'm very fireproof and crazy as you say that I am so well built that I will outlive homes that have been built since. Let me tell you about myself. I live in a gorgeous high Saanich location and am surrounded by other beautiful homes. I have a roomy living-room with a cheery brick fireplace, two bright bedrooms and a truly delightful cabinet kitchen with everything spotless and shiny, and a recess bathroom with shower. My floors are excellent and walls and ceilings are all in modernistic plaster. Oh, yes, I have a full basement with a nice furnace which keeps me warm and cosy all Winter long. My master is going to love me soon because he needs a larger home, and so I am looking for a new master. I really am not much bother and it doesn't cost much to keep me as my taxes are only $45. Won't you come and see me soon? I know you'll love me when you see me. I honestly think I am worth $6990

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP).—A break which extended at times to more than 3 cents in wheat paced a general downturn in grain prices today. Trading was slow at the start, but expanded sharply around noon when heavy selling entered the bread cereal pit. Oats and corn followed wheat lower, although the January corn contract showed good resistance to the decline.
